Our Approach

Paul McAlister Architects offers a unique service to those individuals planning to build their dream home or extending their existing home. Our design expertise will ensure our clients achieve their aspirations, whether in traditional or contemporary design. We incorporate the best of Eco technologies and future proof the design against changes in energy legislation. This substantially reduces the energy overheads of our new dwellings. These architect designed homes demonstrate attention to detail ensuring quality in design and on-site execution. The designs are also tailored to meet planning requirements of both rural and urban locations.
